THE NCC FLAG
UNITY AND DISCIPLINE

The three colours in the flag depict the three services of the crops, Red for the ARMY, Deep Blue for the NAVY and Light Blue for the AIR FORCE

NCC selections were held in my college, when I heard this I was bit confused at first but decided to participate in the selections not expecting anything. My parents to encouraged me to join NCC which was a plus point for me. I did not know much about it, so it was a fresh experience. At the day of selections there were so many young aspiring students of our college who wanted to join NCC; we were tested by some physical and mental activities by our ANO sir and our senior cadets. It was a tough competition, but i was glad that i was selected. I was into some new experience and I was filled enthusiasm. I firstlythought this wasn't my cup of tea, then later on started enjoying each and every parade.

Many cadets had different reason to join NCC, some wanted to achieve in camps, some wanted to join defence and I some were there for educational purposes. The main reason I joined NCC was because I wanted to be in all activities either than studies. I wanted myself to be active and participate in everything. I usually undertook lot of stress and was depressed in my college and personal activities. NCC parades helped me under come these situations, I felt so relaxed after each parade, physically I was in pain, but mentally I used to feel extremely relaxed. The other reason for me to join NCC was educational purposes, I wanted myself to be in good phase in education, and I thought NCC would help me in that. Whatever the reason might be: I'm very glad that i joined NCC, because I learnt so much from it.

NCC was not only about camps, parade, drill, it had lot more activities than I ever imagined. We all conducted swatch barath abhiyan campaign, blood donation camps, tree plantation, we spread awareness about traffic rules, we spread our proud patriotic feeling about our nation, we mesmerized the sacrifice our soldiers made, we did a lot more activities either than just camps and parade.

Conclusion

was truly a new experience for me and I learnt a lot and experienced many new things which are very precious and will always remain precious to me.
